Weather and Crops.

Lower Point Fork,
September 6th, 1867.

Mr. Editor: Yielding to your frequent appeals to the people of this District for correspondence from their respective sections, I herewith hand you a communication from my neighborhood, but must warn you in the beginning, to expect no political effusions from my pen, as I shall confine myself solely to the various affairs, scenes and incidents, of this "progressive" locality.

I will give you then, first, a statement of the crops, a common, though interesting subject to us all.

The corn, which is now, of course, made, —throughout this section is very good. It is my opinion, that, with a very few exceptions, every farmer will make enough to supply his place for the next year, but there will be no surplus. If a man makes a little more than will do him he year's business.

Cotton, as you must know, is immensely injured by the continued wet weather. It is all casting the leaves and forming off—of course it has done all it will ever do. The matured bolls will open, and perhaps some few of the young-ones grow to maturity. A half crop will be a fair average.

The pea crop is fine. Don't think that I ever saw better. But is the rice that fairly beats the palm in this portion of country. The seasons have been peculiarly fitting for this staple, and those who planted considerable of this crop, are indeed fortunate, as better crops of that favorite article have never been known to grow in this locality. So much, Mr. Editor, for the prospects of the farmer in our neighborhood.

PHIL A. BUSTER.

worthy of their confidence and patronage.
Give him a call when you visit the city.

Our readers will notice in our Advertising Columns, the business Card of Messrs.

Bay and Queen Streets, Charleston, S. C., whose Card we to-day publish, are known to us as enterprising and reliable merchants, and we with pleasure introduce them to our business tising Columns, the Card of Messrs. CLACIUS
